What's New - Orion's ePrebill Manager

Orion's ePrebill Manager provides a structured electronic method of distributing prebills for review, editing, markup, one-click acceptance and approvals. It increases visibility into the status of prebill assignment and also reduces paper and printer costs of a paper-driven process. The ePrebill Manager speeds up the firm's billing cycles and increases cash flow by getting bills out sooner. The ePrebill Manager is fully integrated with Orion's desktop application and iOrion, Orion's mobile solution.

Orion's ePrebill Manager offers a cleanly presented design, mirroring the traditional prebill layout. This format allows for a smooth transition to handling prebills electronically while also offering much greater productivity and collaboration.

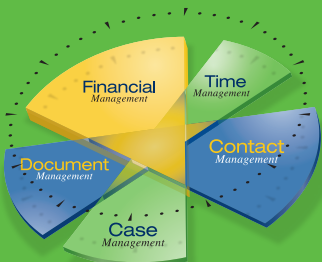

Blending the trusted reliability of Orion's Desktop application with the innovative and intuitive user experience found in Orion's mobile application, iOrion, Orion's ePrebill Manager app provides a full-featured solution for attorneys that find themselves on-the-road or simply prefer a tablet version rather than the Desktop application.

"We are excited to announce the official release of Version 5 which enhances the Orion experience with significant updates and useful features. With the addition of the ePrebill, firms will see greater productivity and collaboration while reducing the overall time spent each billing cycle. Other improvements include enhancements to the client intake process, streamlining conflict searches, the ability to track where legal services are rendered, as well as the continued expansion of Orion's e-billing guidelines management tools. These, along with hundreds of other improvements, have been added to improve upon Orion's reputation in offering perceptive software with measurable results."

What's New - Enhancements to Client/Matter Intake and Conflict Avoidance

The impact of an unidentified conflict of interest can be significant for a law firm in many ways. Direct consequences can be felt if the law firm is unable to pursue a particular matter when a conflict of interest is discovered. Depending upon when the conflict is discovered and its severity, consequences can include lost of repaid legal fees or even disbarment. Yet, this must be balanced with the need to efficiently complete the process of opening new Matters.

In this latest release, Orion has been updated to provide a more efficient method of adding parties to a new Matter. Names can be copied from a document and pasted directly into the Matter Intake form or they can be imported from a text file, simplifying the process over manually typing names, aliases and relationships for the new Matter. Once added, performing a search can now be conducted directly from within the Matter Intake by selecting the "Conflicts Search" option.

Names, Aliases and their Relationship can now be Imported, Dramatically Improving the Efficiency of Requesting a New Matter.

In addition to providing a more resourceful method of adding names, Orion Version 5 also expands the scope of what can be included when performing a search, adding accuracy to the results presented. Prospective Clients, new Matters for existing Clients and the parties involved in those cases, while in the Intake process, are now included in all searches. Furthermore, any previous "formal" search, similar to those conducted for new Clients, Matters and searches conducted when during a lateral-hire, are also included. Conflict avoidance is made simpler yet more reliable than ever before with Orion Version 5.

Conflict Searches have been Simplified by Providing the Option to Conduct the Search Directly from the Matter Intake

What's New - Attorney Assignment History Tracking & Reporting

Tracking Attorney Assignment History provides a new advantage to key revenue-related reports. While assigning the Originating, Managing, Project Manager and Responsible Attorney, an effective date can be assigned. For the Originating and Project Manager fields, not only can these assignments be split, but a historical reference as to how these splits have been assigned or changed over time is now maintained.

While running key revenue-related reports, when the "Use Assignment History" option is selected, the attorney assignment effective date is taken into consideration. Additionally, for where these assignments are split, the allocated percentages are also factored-in based on the effective date.

EffectiveDate	PersonName	Percent
EffectiveDate : 1/1/2018 (2)	Edwards, Nancy E.	75
1/1/2018	Harris, Kevin C.	25
EffectiveDate : 6/17/1996 (1)	Edwards, Nancy E.	100
6/17/1996	Edwards, Nancy E.	100
EffectiveDate : 1/1/1994 (1)	Pearson, Chris	100
1/1/1994	Pearson, Chris	100

Attorney Assignments now offer an Effective Date for Historical Record-Keeping & Reporting Purposes

Key Revenue-Related Reports Now Include the Option of Using the Assignment History and Effective Dates

Reserved Words Offer an Auto-Replacement Option or the Ability to Prompt the User with a Message with Instructions

When Saving a Fee, if a Word, Phrase or Character is Found that is not Allowed by the E-Billing Company, the User is Notified so that they may Correct the Entry

What's New – Enhanced Billing Guidelines with Reserved Word Enforcement

Electronic billing is supposed to streamline the billing and payment process, yet many firms struggle with the complexity and unexpected requirements that e-billing often brings. At Orion, we're committed to providing tools to simplify the e-billing process. Version 5 expands on its billing guidelines management tools by adding Reserved Words enforcement. Once a Reserved Word Set is assigned to a Matter, as a Fee is entered, the description is scanned for words, phrases and even specific characters that have been flagged by the e-billing company for rejection. When found, the word, phrase or character can atomically be replaced, or the attorney/legal staff can manually adjust the transaction before saving it.

This scan can also be conducted globally prior to generating prebills, from Orion's ePrebill Manager and even prior to generating the final invoice while the billing manager is applying the annotations/changes presented by the attorney.

What's New – Work Location Tracking & Reporting

Effectively reporting on where a legal service is performed has become an important aspect to state and local city gross receipts tax laws. While states and many cities have varied standards, which dictate how employers withhold income tax for employees that work for periods of time in a state where they don't live, the need to track the time spent in those key states and cities is critical. In this latest release, Orion has introduced the option of relating the location in which the service was rendered to each Fee/Time entry.
